

Flexible Virtual Instruction for Homebound Learners

Support your students anywhere they learn

Being hospitalized or homebound doesn't have to impact a student's education. Partner with Edgenuity® Instructional Services to offer a cost-effective virtual program that provides increased flexibility, rigorous curriculum, meaningful learning and application, and high-quality teachers, all while keeping students in your district.

To ensure all your students excel, we offer several layers of support for K–12 students who have IEPs or 504 plans, including:

- Standards-aligned, engaging courses that can be customized to match your district's pacing guide so students can keep up with their peers
- Special education coordinators who ensure accommodations and modifications are made for your students and:
  - Assist with student intake and course customization
  - Evaluate, review, and communicate regularly with school personnel about student progress
  - Provide input on updates to IEPs or 504 plans
- Highly qualified, state-certified virtual instructors who:
  - Focus on building relationships with students to provide personalized instruction and attention
  - Evaluate and review student progress on a regular basis, and offer effective feedback so students can self-correct and move forward
  - Supplement instruction with additional learning opportunities, one-on-one instruction, and more

On-demand tutors are also available six days a week in secondary core subject areas, providing an additional layer of support for students.
