

Offset Teacher Shortage with Edgenuity®

Experienced teachers, virtual classrooms, real learning. We've got you covered.

Whether you need a teacher for the entire year or as few as six weeks, partnering with Edgenuity Instructional Services can reduce the struggle of hiring and keeping good teachers, while helping you stay within your budget.

Partnering with Edgenuity Instructional Services gives you access to highly qualified, state-certified virtual instructors who focus on building relationships with students to provide the personalized attention they need to excel. Our experienced virtual instructors can act as the teacher of record for over 300 standards-aligned courses that are designed to engage K–12 students in meaningful learning and application.

With Instructional Services, you also get all the support you need to ensure all of your students get a high-quality education and your implementation is a success:

- A full suite of learning scaffolds, including read-aloud, translation in over 60 languages, a dynamic glossary, and more
- On-demand tutors in secondary core subject areas 7 days a week
- Multiple layers of support, including coaches for on-site mentors, a Special Education Coordinator, and customer support 7 days a week via the phone, email, and chat services

Instructional Services also offers flexible enrollment and delivery options so students can start working in their courses at any time and in any place they have access to a device and the Internet. Partner with Edgenuity Instructional Services today to offset teacher shortage, temporary, substitute and long-term.
